SDCIETY WOMEN TO POSE HERE IN LIVING PICTURES

Mrs. Waldorf Astor Arranges Two Entertainments for Charity at Plaza.

ARTISTS WILL ASSIST.

Corgeous Costumes of Bygone Centuries to be Feature of the Tableaux Planned.

Nannie Langhorne, one of the three beautiful Langhorne sisters, of Virginia, is to be stage manager and art director of the most elaborate and magnificent entertainment attemped by society for charity in many years. Mrs. Benjamin S. Guinness will be her assistant.

The entertainment will be given at the Hotel Plaza on the evenings of Feb. 26 and 27, and will consist of tableau W. Alexander and several other artists will aid in the posing. Society women whose families and names are known well in this city and London will take part in the tableaux, posing in gorgeous costumes of long-ago centuries to represent compositions of the old masters
Mrs. J. J. Astor will pose in several of the pictures, as will Mrs. Clarence Mackay and probably Mrs. Reginald Brooks, a sister of Mrs. Waldorf Astor, with whom she is visiting while staying in this country. The Duchess of Sutherland, the famous beauty of London society, will be in New York at that time, and it is expected that she will consent to duplicate the art pictures in which she has posed abroad. Miss Nora Langhorne, the "baby" of the beautifu Langhorne coterie, is in the midst of the enthusiasm of her coming-out season. She, too, is the guest of Mrs. Reginald Brooks, and she will sit in several of the tableaux.

Mrs. Astor and Mrs. Guinness arranged for the grand ballroom at the Plaza yesterday. The entertainment has been planned for many days, but not until yesterday did the arrangements come to a head.

LIBEL SUIT DISMISSED.

Federal Court Enters Judgment for the Defendant.

ited States Circuit Judge Hough yesterday dismissed a libel suit which brought in September, 1905, by Peter Servass, a saloon-keeper, of North Bergen, N. J., against the Evening World. Servass sought $50,000 damages for an article printed on Aug. 8, 1905, describing conditions in "Little 8. #905. describing conditions in "Little Coney Island" or "Hell Hole," as a settlement at North Bergen was then cafled. Judge Hough said:

Iff. as a matter of fact. Servass is a respectable man and kept respectable patrons he ought not to have any difficulty in showing, in compliance with the rules of the old cases, that he did lose respectable patrons to his peculiary damage. Now if he lost his discrepantable patrons the law ought not disregutable patrons the law ought not to help him, and if disreputable patrons still go there he did not suffer any damage. So it seems to be that the old rule of alleging special damage is based on morals and common sense. This complaint will be dismissed and final judgment entered on the pleadings for the defendant."

OWEN WISTER DECIDES TO RUN FOR ALDERMAN.

Novelist Says It Is a Pleasure to Fight the Organization Machine in Philadelphia.

PHILADDELPHIA, Jan. 24.—Owen Wister, the novelist, although he said he voted for McKinley and Rossevelt and expects to vote for Mr. Taft for President, is to be a candidate for the Select Councils on the Citizens' Democratic ticket in the Seventh Ward of Phradelphia. In hi sannouncement to-Phradelphia. In the sandouncement cosade:

"As a citizen of Philadelphia I esteem it a privilege to run for anything aguinst the organization. For the last two years I have had the pleasure of living in a division that is not dominated by the organization. It is a view uncommon pleasure in this vicinity. One of the results is a polling-place as it should be, and would be even where else but for the organization, the clean office of a republic instead of the dirty hole of a despotism."

ARRESTED WRONG MAN FOR MURDER

Brought from Texas to Iowa, Then Given $100 and Sent Back Home.

Pickard, of Monroe, Texas, thought until yesterday to be William Pickard, after a peculiar experience.

Handcuffed and linked to the arm of yesterday morning. Many old-time friends of William Pickard looked at Nicholas and declared that the wrong man had been arrested. Further than this Nicholas Pickard established the fact that he was a resident of Mansfield, Ohlo, at the time Leets was murdered man, realizing that injustice had been done the aged prisoner, bought Fickard a ticket to Texas and gave Rikereasons.

Store Progress as illustrated in the RIMER Drug Business. Through thick and thin, through wars and riots and panies, this institution has grown and gained strength until now it is regarded as the greatest Retail Drug Establishment in the world. There must be reasons for such growth and strength, and there ARE reasons, good and sufficient ones, too.

Other Drug Stores have come and gone. RIKER'S Drug Store, from a small beginning on Sixth avenue sixty years ago, has advanced steadily, step by step, until to-day fourteen large stores, each with a remarkably successful business, stand as monuments to the principles of their founder,

Wm. B. RINER builded better than he knew when he made HIGHEST QUALITY and LOWEST PRICES the foundation stones of his business. The maintenance of these principles through all the sixty years form the RINER
